Federal Program Inventory – 2013

Introduction

The GPRA Modernization Act (GPRAMA) of 2010 requires a central inventory of all Federal programs. The Federal Program Inventory has the potential to facilitate coordination across programs by making it easier to find programs that can contribute to a shared goal, as well as improve public understanding about what Federal programs do and how programs link to budget, performance and other information.

This document describes the foreign assistance programs of the Department of State (State) and U.S. Agency for International Development (USAID), as well as how each program supports the Joint State-USAID Strategic Goals (Joint Strategic Goals) and Strategic Objectives. Please refer to www.Performance.gov for program contributions to our Agency Priority Goals as well as Cross-Agency Priority (CAP) Goals.

Approach Summary

State and USAID makes progress towards the seven Joint Strategic Goals through State Operations and its foreign assistance programs. This document applies to foreign assistance programs only. Please see the State Department's Administration of Foreign Affairs Federal Program Inventory for information on State Operations programs.

The State and USAID foreign assistance programs are defined as the Foreign Assistance Dashboard sectors. There are thirty-seven applicable Foreign Assistance Dashboard sectors organized under eight broader foreign assistance categories across two agencies – State and USAID. For example, a category is Health, with Malaria as the sector. The full list of the Foreign Assistance Dashboard categories and sectors and corresponding definitions can be found here.

The Foreign Assistance Dashboard was created in response to the principles of the Paris Declaration on Aid Effectiveness and President Obama's Open Government Initiative. The goal of the Foreign Assistance Dashboard is to make all U.S. Government foreign assistance investments available in a uniform, accessible, and easy-to-understand format. OMB Bulletin No. 12-01 provides additional information on this statutory requirement for all U.S. Government agencies to provide foreign assistance data.

The State and USAID foreign assistance programs make progress towards five of the seven Joint Strategic Goals, see below. Next to each State and USAID foreign assistance program is the applicable Joint Strategic Goal(s).

- Joint Strategic Goal 1 (SG1): Counter threats to the United States and the international order, and advance civilian security around the world.
- Joint Strategic Goal 2 (SG2): Effectively manage transitions in the frontline states.
- Joint Strategic Goal 3 (SG3): Expand and sustain the ranks of prosperous, stable and democratic states by promoting effective, accountable, democratic governance; respect for human rights; sustainable, broad-based economic growth; and well being.

- Joint Strategic Goal 4 (SG4): Provide humanitarian assistance and support disaster mitigation.
- Joint Strategic Goal 7 (SG7): Build a 21st century workforce; and achieve U.S. Government operational and consular efficiency and effectiveness, transparency and accountability; and a secure U.S. government presence internationally.

The Department of State and USAID do not currently have Strategic Objectives, but are in the process of developing the next Joint State-USAID Strategic Plan, which will be released in early 2014. That plan will include Strategic Goals and Strategic Objectives to support those goals. This inventory will be updated to reflect alignment to the new Strategic Objectives at that time.
